J. H. POSBY,

LATE FROM THE SOUTH.

The Richmond Whig, of the 2d, contains a telegraphic despatch from Fayetteville, North Carolina, stating that no Federal forces have advanced in that direction from Wilmington. The Whig adds that it omits from that despatch news of Sherman's movements, by official request.

The Daily Dispatch of yesterday says a Union cavalry force is moving down the Valley towards Staunton. Congressman William C. Rives, of Virginia, has resigned his seat. The Examiner very pointedly berates Gen. eral Johnston, and intimates that the armies of Sherman and Schofield have made a junction at or near Goldsboro'.

The Richmond papers also say that the Union troops north of the James have been moved to the left, and massed with the rest of the army in the vicinity of Hatcher's Run They also express fears that Hood as well as

Hardee has been cut off from a junction with Johnston. We received yesterday morning a copy of the Richmond Sentinel of Wednesday last, which contains but little news of general interest. The following is the only references it has to the operations of General Sherman:

"The news from the South looks favorable, and we hope soon to gratify the public with pleasant intelligence from that quarter." In regard to affairs in front of Richmond and Petersburg, the following is the only reference we find: The heavy rains and consequent muddy condition of the roads in the vicinity of Petersburg prevent active operations for the present. There was some shelling on the lines Monday, but not as much as usual. A large number of Yankee deserters came in at different points, claiming the privileges granted them under General Order No. 65. East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia. Our attentive and reliable correspondent at W vtheville writes, February 22d.

"The enemy are about Greenville, fifty miles south of Bristol, in small force. It is not known whether their late advance was intended to cover a raid into Western North Carolina or not. The enemy again occupy Eastern Kentucky, picketing Pound Gap. Action of the Virginia Senate on the Negro Enlistment Question. [From the Richmond Enquirer.] The Senate of Virginia having removed the

ceedings, we are enable to give the following report of the action taken by that body on Saturday, February 25, on the bill to raise a volunteer force of slave and free negroes.

The following is a copy of the bill as it was passed by the Senate and sent to the House of Delegates: Re it enacted by the General Assembly, that the Governor of the Common wealth be, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to call for injunction of secresy from some of their pro-tal and such other points as are or may be threatened by the public enemy. 2. That it shall be the duty of the Governor to cause all slaves who may volunteer with the consent of their masters, and all free negroes who shall tender their services to be organized into infantry companies of not less than sixty-four rank and file, under white officers to be appointed by himself, and snall place the same as fast as so organized, at the disposal of the General-in-Chief of the Confederate armies; or he may order all such volunteers to report immediately to the General-in-Chief, to be organized and officered by him, if thereby time can be saved and the interest of the service promoted.

prohibiting the carrying of arms by slaves or free negroes, are hereby suspended during their term of service in favor of such volunteers as may be called to the field under this 4. The force raised and organized under this act shall be enlisted for one year from the date of being mustered into the service of the

3. All law and parts of law now in force

This act shall be in force from its passage. Report of the Secretary of War. Secretary Stanton sent in, yesterday, his report, dated the first of March, stating tha it had been delayed until General Gran should send in his report of military opera tions. But this has not been received, as the activity of the compaign in progress demands his unceasing attention. The military events of the past year, the Secretary says, have been officially published as they transpired, and are as fully known in every branch of this Government as through out the civilized world. They constitute a series of successful marches, seiges, and bat-tles, attesting the endurance and courage of the soldiers of the United States, and the gallantry of their commanders. This report gives a summary of the opera tions and estimates of the heads of the several bureaus of the War Department, in which, among other things, it is stated that despite the superior advantages for recruiting volunteers, greater success has been reached in recruiting men in the regular service than has been anticipated. .The result of the volunteer and recruiting service under the different calls for troops, dated February 1, March 14, and July 18, 1894, are given. In reference to the re-enlistment of veteran volunteers during the autumn of 1863, the Provost Marshal General says over one hundred and thirty-six who would otherwise ere this have been discharged were secured for three years longer. Organizations which would have been lost to the service were preserved and recruited, and capable and experienced officers were retained in command. The business of arresting deserters and stragglers is progressing actively. 30,392 have been arrested between October 1, 1863, and October 1, 1864. The total number arrested from the establishment of the bureau to October 1, 1864, is 67,760. The Veteran Reserve Corps on October 1,1864, numbered 764 officers and 28,738 The general exchange of prisoners effected under the instructions of this department, under Lieutenant General Grant, is in course of execution, and it is hoped that all of our prisoners in the hands of the rebels will soon be returned. The furlough of thirty days is extended to them as they reach Annapolis.

FINANCIAL.-From Tuesday's New York Commercial: Gold continues comparatively steady. The dealers have large amounts on hand, bought at prices above the present range. They are reluctant to sell at present figures, and yet can neither lend it or borrow greenbacks upon it; they are therefore fighting against time, hoping for soms turn in public affairs that will give them a chance of selling out at better prices. Should news arrive of important successes, their hope would be broken, they would be compelled to sell, and the result of throwing such a large amount upon the market would be to largely accelerate its declide, and produce a severer fluctuation than has occurred in connection with the recent news.

The Evening Post says: The loan market is working irregularly. Considerable activity is reported in certain quarters, but there is less pressure than yesterday. Seven per cent. is the currens rate, with very few transactions at lower rates. Commercial paper is in limited supply, and the demand is small, 8a9 being the prevailing rate for first class names The stock market is somewhat more active, but the general suspense and the anticipation a tendency to repress speculative operations, and to curtail the ordinary business of the Board. Governments are steady, the ten-forties being in active demand at % advance. The speculative list also shows some improvement. For the seven-thirties the subscriptions to-day are reported to be larger than yesterday.
